COLORADO TECHNICAL UNIVERSITY SOUTHERN COLORADO PROMOTES

SCOTT MCGUIRE TO CAMPUS DIRECTOR

Colorado Springs, Colo. (October 20, 2009) - Colorado Technical University (CTU) Southern Colorado announced the promotion of Scott McGuire to vice president, campus director. McGuire, in his fifth year at CTU, previously held the position of vice president of operations. In this new position, McGuire continues his service to CTU Southern Colorado by overseeing all campus departments to ensure priorities and tactics are executed in a timely and effective manner.

“Over the years, Scott has proven himself as a leader on campus who is driven to continually improve CTU for its students and staff,” said Greg Mitchell, CTU Southern Colorado Campus president. “Scott’s experience as vice president of operations and his ability to effectively communicate with department heads made him an outstanding candidate for this position.”

Back in 2005, McGuire enrolled at CTU and lived the student experience first hand while earning his master of business administration degree. He is currently working towards a doctoral degree in management at CTU. McGuire said enrolling as a student is an invaluable experience that has provided him insight into the day-to-day life of a CTU student.

“As the campus director, and a CTU student, I look forward to working closely with all departments to increase collaboration and improve functional performance to provide greater value to our students,” said McGuire.
