ARE YOU IN?

HOW DOES TRANSFER CREDIT WORK?<sup>1</sup>

CTU uses the American Council on Education (ACE) guidelines to determine transfer eligibility for all newly-enrolled military students. Typically, transfer credit includes credit granted by a university for previous courses or programs completed. Along with standard transfer credit, students in the armed forces are eligible to use a Joint Service Transcript (JST) to apply past military training and experience to their CTU classes.

HOW DO UNIVERSITIES DECIDE WHETHER OR NOT TO ACCEPT TRANSFER COLLEGE CREDITS?

Each university makes their own transfer credit decisions by determining whether the learning you received from the military, or other institution, is equivalent to the requirements for the courses they offer. CTU uses the American Council on Education (ACE) guidelines to make these decisions. ACE provides credit recommendations that help determine the direct alignment of your JST to specific subjects offered at CTU.

Below are some examples of commonly seen ACE credit recommendations found on military transcripts that have transferred to CTU in the past. Military transcripts are viewed on an individual basis and credit is awarded at CTU's sole discretion.

Be sure to speak with a member of the Prior Learning Assessment team who will carefully review your transcript to determine your individual transfer credit eligibility.

OTHER FORMS OF CREDIT FOR TRANSFER

In addition to credit earned based on your JST, you may be eligible to receive other forms of transfer credit. These credits may be earned by providing evidence of job experience, taking a proficiency exam or providing certified results of previous testing. CTU offers four ways to earn academic credit:

1 | CTU FAST TRACK<sup>1</sup>

CTU Fast Track<sup>1</sup> challenge exams give you the opportunity to earn college credit for what you already know. By passing multiple Fast Track exams, you can graduate up to 30% faster and save up to 30% on tuition.

2 | Experiential Learning

In some cases, you may receive course credit for experiential learning gained through non-collegiate school-based learning, employment or other appropriate learning experiences. To earn this credit, you must show a direct alignment with courses in your academic program and demonstrate the results of your skills that can be documented.

3 | Professional Training/Certification

You may have earned formal training from a non-accredited institution or company that offers professional training. Typically this is in the form of Continuing Education Units (CEUs), but other documented clock hours may be eligible. You may be required to submit a learning narrative as part of the evaluation process.

4 | Standardized Assessment

You can demonstrate knowledge competency by having taken an Advanced Placement (AP) exam, College-level Examination Program (CLEP) exam, or a DANTES Subject Standardized Test (DSST) exam.

One final note, CTU does not imply or guarantee that credits completed at the university will be accepted or transferable to any other college, university, or institution. Each institution has its own policies governing the acceptance of credit. Students seeking to transfer credits earned at CTU elsewhere should contact the institution to which they seek admission.

READY TO GET STARTED?

When you're ready to transfer credit to any university, the first step is to learn more about the university's policies so you can make the most of your past training and experience.

Universities look for evidence that learning objectives have been achieved through your past military training and experience. On average, military students at CTU earn about 20 credits, which is equivalent to four to five courses. Of course, there are many variables that go into determining transfer credit eligibility, so your situation may earn you more or less transfer credits.

Please note, all credit must be worth at least 2 semester hours and must be college level (vocational credit is not acceptable).

Next, request your military transcript. For active and veteran members of the Army, Navy, Coast Guard and Marine Corps, you will order a JST. The Air Force issues its own transcript through the Community College of the Air Force.
